PRESS RELEASE

ON PAPER – an affordable art fair

March 27–29, 2026 | Transylvanian Ethnographic Museum – Cellarium Gallery, Cluj-Napoca

From March 27–29, 2026, at the Transylvanian Ethnographic Museum – Cellarium Gallery, ON PAPER – an affordable art fair will take place, a curated art fair dedicated exclusively to works on paper and accessible, tangible, and reproducible art forms. Admission to the fair is free.

ON PAPER is a curated art fair that brings together artists, independent publishers, and the public in a setting that celebrates the materiality of paper, limited editions, and independent artistic practices. The event fosters direct interaction between creators and audiences, emphasizing accessibility, proximity, and the exchange of ideas.

The fair features a variety of artistic practices, from digital prints and engravings to zines, comics, art books, and collages, offering a broad perspective on how paper functions today as an artistic medium, editorial support, and collectible object.

Event Structure

Over the course of three days, ON PAPER will include:

- The ON PAPER Art Fair, where selected artists and creators will present and sell their works;
- A curated exhibition by Liviu Bulea & Maria Brudașcă, created specifically for this context;
- An art book exhibition from Cătălina Nistor's collection, dedicated to art publications as forms of artistic expression and tools for visual research;
- Workshops & talks, focusing on creative processes, independent editorial practices, and dialogue between artists, curators, and audiences.

Through this structure, ON PAPER aims to function not only as a fair but also as a platform for meeting, exchange, and learning for the local and national artistic community.
